November, 2008

It is with great pleasure that we pass to you our highest recommendation to The Source Group for your consideration as general contractor for your office construction.

Our dental office had been in our previous office space for a very pleasant 17 years when we found out that our building had been sold and was soon scheduled for demolition. A hastened "lost our lease" scenario forced us to relocate in a very narrow time frame with a goal of minimizing lost production as we transitioned.

Our architectural firm suggested The Source Group as a general contractor to consider as they had a good deal of experience with health care clinic construction. As providence would have it, we could not have been in better hands. Dave Link and his crew were outstanding!

Their unique understanding of medical tenant buildouts allowed us to take a normally 5 - 6 month process and complete it in 3 month timeframe that we required. They delivered on their construction timetable to get us in on time and on budget ... and they delivered in high quality and result ! The construction process progressed with ease with them at the helm.

Eric Gabrielson, their on-site supervisor, was fabulously talented and a pleasure to work with. He was a daily presence coordinating all sub-contractor activities. The sub-contractors that they chose were all so great to work with and were of constant high quality. We were many times pleased to be working with so many nice people of integrity, quality craftsmanship, and genuine concern that we were always happy with the finished result.

The Source Group deserves your serious consideration if:

- you want a contractor devoted to details and seeing the job done right
- you want a contractor that stays on schedule and on budget
- you want a contractor responsive to your comments, questions, or concerns
- you want a contractor who is sensitive to the health care needs of patient and Doctor time
- you want a contractor who makes sure you are happy and pleased with the results

Feel free to contact our office at anytime if you should find a need to inquire about The Source Group for your construction needs.

Sincerely,

Drs. Williams & Wimmer and entire staff
